More than 300 people have provided input on how to make our downtown sidewalks more inviting, exciting, and fun. At the February event, most participants said ideas are heading in the right direction.

On April 18, we will present concepts that pull all the elements together – showing typical sidewalk designs and highlighting specific improvements.

Some concepts include changes to parking or existing use of the sidewalk. We'd like your feedback before City Council decides on the plan later this spring.

Light snacks will be provided at the event. Kids welcome.

If you are interested in a unique and thriving downtown and use our downtown sidewalks, join us!
